DANGERS

Are Many In the Rubber Trade.

The Ignorant Native Faces Them

And Is Cheated by His Employer.

Factory Workers Must be Cool and Careful.

The life of a rubber gatherer is not one of unalloyed happiness. On the big rubber plantations hardships and privations are not so great, but the native who goes into the wilds in search of gum, must confront many dangers.

"Much of the rubber used in Akron is gathered from the wild trees," said one interested in the trade. "Some shrewd Yankee or other man, not a native, will stake a native worker—furnish him provisions and an outfit with which he goes into the back country district. Ten to one, the native is a shiftless, lazy, dirty specimen. He has no thought of the morrow so long as he is fed today, unless it is that he wants liquor. If he escapes snakes, fever, wild beasts and other dangers of the dark, tropical woods, he returns in time with a load of raw rubber and, ten to one, is cheated of half its value by the man who staked him. He proceeds to get drunk and remains in that state while he has money remaining. If white men could stand the climate their superior ability and industry would make rubber gathering by them very profitable.

One of the great armies of the industrial world, whose avocation is scarcely less dangerous than that of the volunteer or the regular fighter, is fainting, smothering, palpitation, pain in left side, shortness of breath, irregular or intermittent pulse and retarded circulation all come from a weak or defective heart. Overcome these faults by building up the heart-muscles and making the heart-nerves strong and vigorous. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is the remedy to use. It is the best.

Sinking Spells,

"I had fainting and smothering spells, dizziness with a full feeling in my head and deranged stomach. I heard of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and at once began its use. I could see an improvement after the first dose, and just two bottles cured me completely."

that of the army of rubber workers.

Scarcely a day passes in the cities where there are many men employed at this trade, that some accident does not occur. Rubber shops are full of dangerous machinery and a man, to preserve all his fingers, hands or even his life, must take good care of himself.

The "washers" with their corrugated rolls of iron, revolving and grinding relentlessly, cause many of the accidents, and those caused by them are usually serious, resulting often in the loss of an arm or hand, and sometimes of a life.

The calendars, in which the preparations of different qualities of raw gum are rolled to uniform thicknesses between great rollers, catch occasional victims, though the numbers are not so large as those claimed by "washers."

Benzine and other highly flammable compounds are used in great quantities. Explosions are far from unheard of and the vocation of making things of rubber, presents dangers equal to those of almost any other trade, not excepting the work in the big iron and steel mills.

A Fiendish Attack.

An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters, which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at all druggists.

FOREIGN

Capitalists Bought American Land.

French Interests Control Property in West Virginia.

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 17.—(Spl.)—J. X. Hill, agent for the Western Kanawha Land Association, Tuesday, closed a deal which will give French capitalists control of 110,000 acres of valuable coal and timber lands on the Upper Guyandotte river near the line of the Guyandotte Valley railway. The lands will be developed soon, and Hill states that it means an outlay of $1,000,000, in this section.

AFFIRMED

The Decision of the Lower Court.

Supreme Court Holds Defaulters Responsible.

Columbus, O., Oct. 17.—(Spl.)—In its decision affirming the Allen county courts in the case of The American National bank, of Lima, against Gus Kalb, cashier and N. L. Michael, vice president of the bank, the Supreme Court holds that Kalb and Michael were responsible for the disappearance of $18,255.72, from the banks safe between Dec. 24 and 27, 1898, and judgment for this amount is given against them. Michael did not appeal from the lower court's decisions, but Kalb did.

MAY WED.

Episcopal Convention Decided

Not to Bar Divorced People.

This Settles the Troublesome Question For Three Years.

San Francisco, Oct. 17.—(Spl.)—The troublesome question of marriage and divorce was set at rest for another three years today by the action of the House of Deputies of the Triennial Episcopal convention in the rejection of both of the proposed canons on the subject which were passed by the House of Bishops.

The greatest fight of the convention has been over Section 4 of Canon 30, virtually forbidding the remarriage of a divorced person by a priest of the church. This had passed the House of Bishops and been adopted by a yea and nay vote in Committee of the whole of the House of Deputies.

When the committee rose and reported its work to the house a decisive vote was taken not only on the troublesome fourth section, but on the entire canon, which was rejected as a whole. Canon 37, which provides for the disciplining of persons marrying again after being divorced, met with a similar fate.

ROBBERY

Was Evidently the Motive.

Bags That Had Contained Savings Found Scattered About.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 17.—(Spl.)—The death of Mrs. Levi, develops a story of murder and robbery. She lived at Burroughs, a negro settlement where she and her husband had conducted a business for years. Six months ago her husband died. She was afraid to trust the banks, and had about $2,000 hidden about the place in tobacco bags. She was found dead yesterday and the bags in which she kept her money were scattered about the floor. Legree, the negro mayor of Burroughs, is making every effort to ferret out the murderers.

"PRINCE OTTO."

The Five Acts of an Elaborate Play.

"Prince Otto," which is the offering of Mr. Harry Glazier, and his company at the Grand, Saturday evening, Oct. 19, is based upon Robert Stevenson's novel of that title. Otto Skinner is the author of the play which is divided into five acts, the last containing two scenes. The first act takes place in Farmer Leopold's cottage, the second in the salon of the Princess Seraphina in the palace of Lauterheim, the third in the council chamber, the fourth in the state apartment, the fifth scene of the fifth act in the fortress of Drachenstein, and the second scene Farmer Leopold's cottage once more.

That Palace Car of the Everett-Moore Syndicate.

The palace car being built by the J. C. Brill Co., for the Everett-Moore syndicate will cost $15,000. It will be 40 feet and six inches long, eight feet and six inches wide, and twelve feet high. The sheathing, or outside finish, will be of a dark olive color with buff brass trimmings. The windows, of which there will be eighteen, will be of the best French plate glass. There will also be an oval-shaped window for the bath room, and curved observation windows for the front and rear of the car. None of the windows will be more than 12 inches from the floor of the car. The body of the car will extend as far as the bumpers, entrance being made to it by means of steps which are concealed by a movable floor when the vehicle is in motion. The car will be practically lined with steel, the sills to be plated with three-eighths inch sheathing of this material. It will contain sofa beds, sleeping berths, plate glass flooring, sheet steel siding, pneumatic gongs, whistles, sand boxes, a bath room with a tile floor, tea and coffee urns, electric heaters for cooking food, folding wash stands, disappearing ice boxes and food refrigerators, disappearing tool boxes and controllers, patent electric head-lights fitted with interchangeable glass for danger signals, electricity, gas, and cold water are among the features of the moving palace. There will be interior accommodations for twelve guests.

erable weather as that of Wednesday night cannot entirely destroy.

There was a fair attendance under the circumstances and the company gave a good performance. The keen heart interest that runs all through the piece, the pathos and heartaches that are familiar to all who have seen the play, were nicely brought out and the audience was sympathetic even to being almost lachrymose.
